Robbie died too soon. He was a great talent, brother, and uncle. I wish I would have fought harder on his behalf to get the proper care he needed. I wish I were a better advocat. I loved him and always will.

Rob always had a quick wit and a great sense of humor. He taught me my first few chords on guitar and he loved entertaining. We shared a lot of good times in shop class and school. He will be missed, Mike W.

Mike, I was so happy to meet you. Rob spoke of you often and I know he was smiling down on us from heaven. His friends meant the world to him and I was privileged to hear about all of the escapades of the Ashdale gang. I miss him so very much. As of now it is getting worse and not better. I cry over the dumbest stuff. He was my knight in shining armor. We spent our honeymoon at the Excaliber Hotel in Vegas and had a caricature done of him and I as a King and Queen. He said I can't believe the things I do for you. Evidentially he was not the caricature kind of guy. It is now one of my favorite memories. Thank you again for coming and for being his friend.

Rob was a very good friend. He always had a quick joke for me on my visits to the place he worked. he went out of his way to make me feel like the most important person he knew for that time. i think of him often, his smile and humor will be missed .
