My life feels so empty without you in it. Just knowing you are not there for me to talk to brings a wave of loneliness over my body. I am still talking to you and I hope you are listening. We shared many moments of life that made us happy and some made us cry. I always felt we would grow old together. Your presence here is so greatly missed, not only by me, but many others. You will be happy to know that I was able to meet your "Marie" from the bus. She seems very special, just like you told me. I know we didn't get to make our last trip (to Graceland), but we had so many other trips that I will treasure forever. Meagan is auditioning today in NY and I know you are looking over her to provide her confidence and love. Your life will go on expressed through all of our memories. A special prayer goes out for your "Donald (Duck)" and your children and grandchildren. I will check in with them weekly to ensure they are okay. I hope their grieving period is short and their memories linger and they hold them close to their heart. Love you Pamela forever!! Love, Lana

Pam has always had a special place my family heart especially to my mom. My mom thought the world of Pam and Brenda. I can remember at times when my mom would say i talked to Pam or saw Pam today. I could hear it in her voice how happy she was just to see her or talk to her and the same as with Brenda. But the most important thing was how she loved my brother and him loving her. They were made for each other it just couldn't be any other way. She was truly a angel and a loving mother and grandmother. My blessing goes out to her family which is my family. Lisa
