Green FC lost not only the best goalie in the league but, for some of us, a good friend. I could not believe it when I heard Chris had passed, it took me a couple of days to really accept it. He was the rock of our team, and more than any other player was the reason our team was competitive. More important than that, he was a great team mate. Even if we were losing he stayed calm and collected. He never really got frustrated or angry, and he always had a positive word for his defense. I honestly can't think of a single negative behavior he exhibited during the past several years I played with him. All I can say is that I am honored to have had him choose me for his team and to have played with him on the pitch, and incredibly saddened that he is gone.
