I will truly cherish the time that I spent with him recently on my visit to VA. We talked for hours just about anything and the future plans he had. I will miss him. I only wish he had met my sons because he would have been a great role model for them. At least I did get to tell him that I was proud of him for his accomplishments and that I loved him. I told him that he was like the brother I never had because he would joke with me.##imported-begin##Christine and Jeff Wartenberg##imported-end##
