Roy was one of the first men I met when I moved to Lucketts. He was always open, honest and generous, the true marks of a good man. He shared everything that had... stories, local history, and vegetables from his garden. I will miss Roy and I am certain the community will miss him too.##imported-begin##Nick Chandler##imported-end##

Roy was my first baseball coach in 1987. He had so much love for all the kids that played. He could tell you how many times you got hit by a pitch and how many hits you had for many years later. He remembered every kid he coached. Roy would tell us before every game that you can get beat by any team on any given day but to be sure you played your best every time. Thanks Roy, I am so lucky to have known you, you well be missed.##imported-begin##Sheldon Pratt##imported-end##

Roy, I just learned of your passing. And I was taken back to Lucketts Little League- Cardinals and Yankees you were my coach for both, to making hay for cousin Lloyd with you with and some other good men I looked up to, and to all the times you shared your property with myself, Ricky and other friends. You were an honest, generous, humble man with a big kind heart. I regret it's been so long since we've talked. Rest in peace coach.
