Fearless vulnerability is what comes to mind when I think of Kim. She was unafraid to love and let you know that she loved you. I am blessed to have known her and will always be sad that she did not have more time to be with us.

I'm so grateful for our friendship that began 34 years ago. I feel so very blessed to have our friendship rekindled after losing each other years ago. God's timing is perfect. . Your faith and courage and love for your family will continue to speak to me all my life. Thank you for being such an amazing inspiration, especially when I'm struggling. Love you, Michelle
