Mr. Caulkins was a model for many of us-- quiet, humble, and very hard working. He served the nation during WW II and later our community. I am so glad that I had a chance to speak with him on several occasions over the last 25 years. What a privilege knowing him and his brother Roger. Always will appreciate some of his stories about the 1950s and 1960s. Michael McPoland

Over the decades me and my family would come into Caulkins to have watches or rings repaired, to buy gifts or just to say hi. I sought out Stanley because he was fun to talk to and adorable. I am sad that he has passed on.

Growing up in Leesburg during the 70's, I knew Stanley as a prominent business owner, a patient in my father's dental practice and a pillar of the community. Although many memories are brought to mind, my fondest is one in which my son and I met him by chance in the Leesburg Safeway. Responding to my son's greeting, he replied, "Well, hello there, guy!" In much the same fashion he greeted me, as a youngster. A great lesson can be learned by remembering his kindness and conduct, as well as his humor.

Leesburg, and Loudoun County, has lost a legend, indeed, with the passing of Mr. Caulkins. I have memories from way back in the 1960's, when I was a young teen-ager, going with my mother to his store on King Street, to look at jewelry, cards, gifts, etc. Our family bought many wedding, graduation and baby gifts from Caulkins' Jewelry, as it was the "place to go" back in those days. Mr. Caulkins was a very godly man and lived his life to the fullest extent possible. He is now collecting his reward in heaven and celebrating with all the saints who have gone on before. Heaven has gained another saint with Mr. Caulkins's passing, and one day we will all be reunited again in that meeting in the sky. My deepest sympathy is extended to all the Caulkins family in your loss, and please know that you are in the thoughts and prayers of the entire community during this difficult time.
