It is with great sadness that the family of William Lee Young of Cocoa, Florida announce his passing, on July 22, 2019 at the age of 79 while visiting family in Ashburn, Va.

Paul Rosenwald lit a candle in honor of William.

Bill and I became close friends in the FAA in the early 70's. The two of us were a lot younger at that time!! We were working on the modernization of the Flight Service Station (FSS) System. Bill was a key engineer on the program and I was in the Air Traffic Service and became the program manager after several years. He preceded me in retirement but I signed up with him working for a private contractor at Air Shows around the country for a few years. I live in Colorado but we kept in touch via the internet or telephone. He was a great colleague and a very close friend. The two of us had great careers and worked with a number of other FAA employees who did their best to improve the FSS segment of the Air Traffic System.. I will certainly miss that relationship. My condolences to his wonderful wife Patty and the family.
