Henry, I met you 36 yrs ago and you never changed a bit. You always was happy and willing to help anyone with anything and everything. When people were down and out you always had a way of cheering them up and getting their problems off their mind and making them laugh. Having known Wanda since 1983 and hearing many many great and funny stories over the years from her and my brother, Timmy you were one in a million. I was always so so proud of you and you always treated people with respect. Whenever i was around you, and Brittany and Wanda was there like at Brittany's birthday party at the skating rink and other places I always seen it in your eyes how proud you was of them and how much you loved them and i will never ever forget that. To them, me and alot of other people you walked on water. If heaven had a window i know i would see you smiling and many loved ones hearts are broken but we all know you are fine and home with Jesus and your memories are with us forever. Love and miss you. You're up in heaven looking down on us saying you should see this place. One day we will all be back together no more worries no more pain.
