By the way, our mother still the evil silence wannabe do-gooder is still being her usual self. My wife Diana wrote her a nasty letter of how she ignores me and how she manipulated me not showing up at your funeral. I've tried calling, texting and various ways to reach her and she still plays that silent treatment as always because she knows we both know the kind of person she really is. Obviously so not even mentioning your only brothers' name in your obituary nor your nephews or niece. Wicked woman she is since I went back to our birthright last name Llewellyn. Sorry you took that Italian bogus name and didn't get that chance to change it like we discussed. Oh well! Life is great though Bobby and I finished my promise of making that deck and wishing well for you. Not as good as the master yourself but came out a-ok. Hope it makes you proud. Diana sure seems it would've. I'll still keep trying to have feelings for mom and hopes she comes through. I know you sure tried. Until next time.....you still my big brother although I'm now 2 years older....ha!

Happy Holidays Bobby. Its me, Denny, your only brother. Well its nearing the end of 2022 now and I finished that deck we talked about and I put in a huge privacy fence along the way and dedicated all of it to to you..."The Deckmaster". I got back into bodybuilding but I grew a long Santa beard like you had. You couldn't tell us apart. Beard only I'm referring to of course. I'm now closing in on 63 years of age but remember this, you'll ALWAYS be my big brother. Hope your building up there in the Heavens and I just wanted to let you know that you live with me each and every day. Remember.....save me a seat....but I'm gonna be here for a while but only a moment in God's eyes. Keep your love always, Your little bro

This is a cropped image of my brother and I mother. Her name now is Marla Pisciotta Haislip. You'll know much about her throughout the comments. This is the woman whom you can very well see has a dark side about herself by just taking a good look into her eyes. It is a shame some of what my brother said to me about her just weeks before his death. It is also quite weird with respect towards her mental state and for how long that's been on the rise. Maybe most of our lives and my brother wasn't aware of it until our last conversations. I was shocked as was he of what our mother had done. The only difference was his love was endearing and didn't realize also how dangerous it was to eat food to take away your anxieties and concerns. In fact, it eventually would kill him weighing 365 lbs. Much of this in retrospect was the cause from both our mother and Bobby's ex (Cathy Bastiani). Bobby told me she was "The Witch From Hell", yet he stayed devoted....hence..."endearing". If only my brother could and should've erased the evil that surrounded him. My family sees how his passing effected me but I'll say this much....our mother nor an ex will never effect me like they did to Bobby. NEVER! SO enjoy the evil you can obviously see in our mothers' eyes with this cropped photo from the other one I supplied of my brother and I in other shared photos. I tell ya....that was one vindictive hard-core Cumberland, Maryland family thru generations. Her mother was even worse leaving her daughters only a dollar when my grandmother died. Very evil people indeed. Shame Bobby and I were related to it.

This is my loving brother Bobby on my left, which is far right. Bobby and I were extremely close all the way up to his untimely death. He told me just a week before he died that he may have made a mistake taking the name Pisciotta because he knew he was a Llewellyn by birth despite our real biological father, who by the way had the exact name. Yes, Bobby was a junior but our mother manipulates EVERYTHING. If you only knew, which I'm sharing the truth for people and friends who must know. If only Bobby had gotten involved with someone else and went on his own journey away from our deceiving mother and that man she married. Everything would have proven Bobby certainly would have lived much longer than a mere 62. A crying shame it didn't happen and more of a crying shame people in this family leave out so much of the truths of what really occurred during the years when that Italian step dad came into the picture. Between him and that Italian wife Bobby married literally destroyed everything along with the controlling of our mother trying to make things go her way. Very sad 😞

Its also amazing that Bobby's little brother Denny wasn't even mentioned in the obituary under "survived by". How cunning and cold-hearted is that? There's your proof whomever wrote it. Most likely the mother did just to have her way once again. Quite amazing!

My brothers real name is Robert LaRoy Llewellyn. I'm his brother Dennis LaRoy Llewellyn and I take it very personal that Bobby's mother, which is mine too keeps on this charade that he is Italian carrying an Italian name regardless of a court changing it. Llewellyn is a royalty name and our mother brainwashed this as if Llewellyn didn't exist. It does and everyone throughout Bobby's school years knew him as Llewellyn and NOT PISCIOTTA. My mother should be ashamed to do this to my loving brother who I protected when we were kids. Between his ex and our mother destroyed his life causing him to eat and eat gaining up to 365lbs doing nothing about it. My brothers last words he said to me was that this was the cause between all that pasta, stress from his ex and from our mother was killing him. And it did! You people need scorned for what you did all those years and Cathy his ex should be flogged for not allowing Bobby to go pro when he had the chance with both tennis & golf. Bobby was that good. TELL THE TRUTH PEOPLE!!! You all killed my brother because he just wouldn't stand up and let you all have it. Now my brother lives in me. And mom.....GROW UP!!!

There is no evidence that Robert Laroy Llewellyn Sr. authorized any such adoption for my brother to change his name to Pisciotta. Even i had to stop using that name Pisciotta because it was never legally authorized to use even all through my military career. Our mother instigated the whole entourage of lies saying it was okay to use because of her hatred towards our biological father who was bisexual. She made it personal and all through the years painted her new husband at the time, Vito Pisciotta as an awesome man. He wasn't! He was merely an Italian bully, whom by the way almost choked me to death at a mere age of 12. Then left me for dead as I passed out and my mother slapped me in the face to get me to breath. She didn't do one thing to that step dad bs heroics. Not once. Instead, she sugar-coated and tried to control with all the leverage she could to make everyone believe that Vince was a great guy. He was nothing more than a phoney on many levels. Typical Italian behavior who stands tall and intimidates with his size....i.e. bully. Bobby told me in his last week here on Earth that there was so much that he wished he'd never have done but was already too deep into it and one of those things was he said "I wished I didn't change my name now". He said this to me because he found out that our real father changed his name to Wellington and because he did this offered a way out of not being embarrassed by the name Llewellyn because its a royal name from Wales. Shame that had to happen and now all his kids carry that garbage name. I thank God that my children keep that honest name of Llewellyn....AS IT SHOULD BE. I hope my relatives read this and honor that their name IS NOT PISCIOTTA but rather LLEWELLYN. from....Uncle Denny Llewellyn Sr.

Just a reminder that my brother and I were SAVED & BAPTISED, which is extremely important. However, it wasn't apparently important enough to mention by those that claim they were close to him in the obituary so I will. There isn't ANYTHING more important than excepting Christ as your personal Savior. What's exciting is that nobody has anything to worry about having a nicely built home because my brother was the best and our Real Father needed him. So we might think about having two great carpenters up there in preparation. May God bless this wonderful man, father and a brother in Christ.

I hope that everyone is aware that I was told by our mother Marla Haislip to not be at my brother's funeral. What kind of a mother does that? I can only suspect that me being Bobby's only brother I would have shed a light on many things that were lies on top of lies over the years....decades actually. That step father Vincent Pisciotto was nothing more than an egocentric bully. He and I never got along because I stood up to him after becoming a Marine. He was a great provider and much of a bs artist in his way. All of which was orchestrated by my mother and her wants of controlling everything. Even her grandchildren turned as I've been told and my brother weeks before his passing told me she didn't want anything to do with anyone in the family and that her and Bobby hadn't seen one another in 3-4 years. So the truth isn't being told in memory of my brother. He told me that this family, especially our mother was destroying his life. Bobby also stated his ex Cathy had a great piece of that. Bobby and I had plans of reuniting just before his passing and to give me more of the garbage that had been going on in this vindictive family, which originated from that Italian stepdad and my mother. It seems that none of them could tell the truth and Bobby and I were fed up. But it killed him but not me. My job now is to have my brother live on with me but only as an Llewellyn not that damn pisciotto name. It's bogus!!
