David McCarthy

OCT 12, 1947 - DEC 10, 2012

DAVID McCARTHY, 65, of Leesburg, Virginia died on Monday, December 10th 2012 in Leesburg.

Mr. McCarthy was born October 12th 1947 in Boston, Massachusetts. He grew up all over the US being the eldest son of a US Marine Colonel. He received a M.S. in Public Health from the University of Illinois in 1975 and a B.A. in Latin American History in 1971 from Northern Illinois University.

While serving in the Peace Corps as a health educator, he provided continuing education and training to an indigenous population in Guatemala promoting water safety and use. For 23 years, he worked for Management Sciences for Health (MSH), a non-profit organization based out of Boston, helping many people in need in Latin America and Africa.

After retiring in 2007, he volunteered with local organizations to help protect the natural resources and land of Loudoun County. One of these organizations was Banshee Reeks Nature Preserve in Leesburg where he assisted with bird banding and water monitoring among other projects. He received an award for his outstanding volunteer work in 2011.

Mr. McCarthy was a true outdoorsman, explorer of nature, and a passionate bird watcher. He was a compassionate and caring man. He enjoyed making people laugh and his sense of humor left a lasting impression on all of us.

Mr. McCarthy is survived by his beloved wife of 26 years, Monica F. McCarthy of Leesburg; a son: Pablo Roberto McCarthy (Andrea) of Fairfax, VA; his parents: Edward R. and Mary M. Mahoney McCarthy of Holden, Massachusetts; five siblings: Christine Welby of Portsmouth, RI, Richard McCarthy of St. Paul, Minnesota, Katharine A. McCarthy of Manchester, Connecticut, Anne F. McCarthy of Atlanta, GA, Virginia Bassler of North Attleboro, Massachusetts and a host of other relatives and friends.

My deepest condolences - if late - to all of David's family members. I met David when I started working as a volunteer at the NISGUA office (National Network in Solidarity with the People of Guatemala) in 1981. I am shocked and saddened to learn of his passing so long ago. In the throes of writing a book about my human rights work for Guatemala, I wanted to ask him some questions, but instead found a very sad answer. I am so very sorry I did not contact him in time....I will never forget David and have often thought about him while writing. He and I crowned our work at NISGUA with helping defeat a Congressional aid package in December of 1981 that would have supported the Guatemalan Army's deadly repression of innocent citizens. David is another person for whom I shall toast as a true fighter for justice and human rights - the world needs more like him.....Paul Yamauchi paul_yamauchi@yahoo.com

What many of us most valued about David was his honesty; he told it the way he saw it. Tactfully and graciously, yes, and often with a light wry humor, but always truthfully. He asked the tough questions, of himself as much as of others, and didn't accept easy, glib answers. David set a standard for his colleagues by his respect for, and interest in, his counterparts in developing countries. And he never forgot that our real clients were the disadvantaged and underserved people at the bottom of the ladder. Because he cared so deeply, he made those around him care as well. His talents and his spirit are greatly missed.

Though I never thought about it at the time (perhaps being so obvious as to be easily neglected amidst the noise of every day), I now see that David was almost constitutionally unable to offend others; everyone who came in contact invariably had positive reactions to his smile, good humor, welcoming approach and, even in the many situations where light at the end of the proverbial tunnel seemed distant, his optimistic approach to development work, David could see and applaud the good in all he came in contact with, and he lived the Taoist poem that has long inspired many at MSH;Go to the people;Love them; learn from them;Start with what they have, build on what they know.But of the best leaders, When their task is accomplished, the work is done,The people will all say, " we have done it ourselves"-----

I knew David primarily through VMN, but I'll never forget the naturalist walk he led at a Women in the Outdoors program that I attended. One of the trails on which he took our class happened to be where the pellets from the skeet shooting clinic were falling... which we didn't discover until we were being gently pelted from above! He had to switch gears from "naturalist instructor" to "the poor man who had to remain calm amid the screaming ladies". He was so fun. Every interaction I ever had with him involved a lot of laughs and smiles and I'll never forget him. My thoughts, prayers and best wishes for peace are with him, Monica and everyone who loved him.

Gringo por Fuera, Latino por Dentro. Si pienso en vos, lo primero que se viene a mi mente es la gran contradicción, sí, debajo de esa piel blanca, detrás de esos ojos azules, de tu cabello rubio y tu espesa barba blanca, latía un bondadoso corazón latino, mestizo, indio..... si hubieras nacido aquí, de este lado del río Bravo, bien hubieras sido un Tecún Umán o quizás un Lempira. Cuantas historias tus labios pronunciaron que a mis oídos atentos deleitaron, siempre rebelde, siempre inconforme, luchando por los mas débiles, buscando tu misión, tratando de hallarte dentro de vos, irradiando alegría, paz, serenidad, luz. Hoy mi corazón no puede estar triste, porque tengo la certeza que has llegado a un lugar maravilloso, que has encontrado, lo que tanto buscaste en esta tierra, un lugar sin sufrimientos, un lugar de igualdad social, de paz; vos conocías el sufrimiento antes de sentirlo en carne propia y buscaste siempre aliviarlo en aquellos mas desposeídos, aquellos oprimidos por los poderosos y aun en tu sufrimiento seguiste enarbolando esa bandera por la vida, esa que siempre te caracterizó; no, no fue en vano experimentar en tu cuerpo lo que aun la ciencia no había probado, fue un acto de amor, pues lejos de querer salvar tu vida, la ofreciste por los que vienen atrás. Hasta luego querido David,
