The news of losing you stopped me cold. I still can't believe you're not here to give us your sass and sarcasm anymore. I will always remember our attempts at solving the worlds problems, culturing ourselves over dinner, and that goofy smile when you had something clever to say. You were a giant teddy bear and will be missed dearly, my friend. My sincerest condolences to Stella and the family. Thank you for sharing Yung with us.

When I first Yung about 8 years ago, as a co-worker, I had a completely wrong impression of him. I thought he was a bit unfriendly and gruff but this impression could not be any further from the truth. Yung has been an awesome person to know and work with. He always pushed for improving things and not just settling for things as they are. I will miss his ideas, his advice, and his insights. More than just a co-worker, Yung was just an allaround great person to know. He laughed easily and always had a joke or a funny comeback ready to go. He was also thoughtful and considerate, always ready with words of wisdom, caution, and encouragement. I will miss just shooting the breeze with him about all kinds of topics (including Star Wars shows).To Yung's family and friends, I offer my deepest heartfelt condolences.To Yung, where ever you are: safe journey, dude. Godspeed.
