Shaukat Alfonse

OCT 16, 1951 - APR 19, 2025

Born in Peshawar, Pakistan, to Allah Rakha and Veero Bibi, Shaukat Alfonse lived a life defined by faith, sacrifice, and love. A hardworking student-athlete, he worked nights while attending college by day and proudly represented his school in national hockey.

He married his beloved wife on February 23, 1977, and worked across Libya, Abu Dhabi, and Italy to provide a better future for his children. Later, he joined USAID during the Cold War and was eventually forced to leave his hometown due to threats.

Arriving in America with little, he worked tirelessly at a gas station in Massachusetts until he could reunite with his family. He later served as a linguist for the U.S. military in Georgia and Saudi Arabia, a role that brought him deep pride and fulfillment.

A devoted Christian, proud American, loving husband, father of five, and grandfather of seventeen, he passed away after a brave two-year battle with cancer. Shaukat will be remembered for his strength, humility, and unwavering love for God and family.
