Ron was my very good friend and golf buddy. He was also my "go to" guy to know who was selling their house in River Creek and for what price and what it finally sold for .Pat nurtured him back from a near death illness several years ago and continued his robust recovery through their daily walks through River Creek, taking a myriad of paths in different neighbor hoods. What a great couple. I counted on him and Pat to keep me abreast of the latest and best Italian restaurants. He new them all. Sadly, I will miss him very much and pray that he is enjoying the greatest feast of all with his son David and our savior Jesus Christ . Pat, you are blessed to have Cynthia, her wonderful husband Dave and especially grandson Micheal to help you through this difficult time .May you all find peace and comfort by enjoying Ron's wonderful memories.Grazie dio --Al and Ginny Gravallese

To the family of Ron Martino. Meeting, visiting, and bringing the blessed Sacrament to Ron was such a joy for me and St. Theresa Church in Ashburn, VA. Our priest was also grateful to have the opportunity to annoint Ron on Tuesday evening at Loudoun Hospital prior to his joining our Lord and Savior some hours later. May God bless this family and give them peace with their wonderful memories of their husband, father and friend.Delphine (Dee) Lavanty, Eucharistic Minister, St. Theresa Catholic Church

Ron and Pat's marriage of 51 years is such an excellent testimony to they way they lived their lives - faithful in sickness or in health . . . Regardless of whatever affliction was your lot in life, be aware, Pat, that no trouble ever lasts forever, just as Thomas Moore wrote in Come, Ye Disconsolate, "Earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal." With warmest thoughts - Bill and Nett

My condolences to Pat and the family. Ron was a mentor, advisor, "Big Brother" and most of all a valued friend. Ron was always available to lend help and advise, both professionally and personally. Meeting Ron in 1983 and subsequently working for him at Schering was a milestone in my life. He was "family". There are people in our lives we try to emulate. For me that is Ron Martino. His sense of family, sense of humor and direction will always be with me. I will miss him dearly. My prayers and those of my family go with him and to Pat and family. Best wishes during a difficult time, ron smith

To Pat and family, Ron is one of the finest people I have ever had the privilege to know; much of what is good in my life, I owe to Ron and Pat, who was always by his side. It was an honor to work for Ron over many years with Schering; I learned so much from Ron, not only about business, but more importantly about life, love and the importance of family. His legacy will last forever. He will be missed. God bless the Martino's. Sincerely, Gregory Beaver
