“ My son William and I are so saddened and devastated to hear this news. We only heard yesterday while watching trains. We met Alan and James while photographing trains a few years ago. My son and James hit it off right away over their shared interest in trains. If anyone can contact the family my son would like to talk to James. Thoughts and prayers to the family. “ Our deepest sympathies to James and the rest of Alan's family. He was a sweet man and we knew his late wife, Sow. Both were such a joy to work with. Please let us know how we can help support James in this very tough time. He has a very big, loving work family that is yearning to help.
