“ What is little known is that Mary volunteered at Loudoun Library Foundation Used Book Sale. Mary's knowledge of the Special-priced Books was impeccable. She always knew which Books to set aside for that purpose. She made our volunteering so enjoyable. Sale is next Weekend & we'll be thinking much about our Dear Friend.

Miss You & Rest in Peace.

“ Dear John and Mary's Family,
We want to send you our sympathy and say how sorry we are for the loss of Mary. We were fortunate to have had her friendship through the Civil War Round Table and her invaluable help when researching at Thomas Balch Library. Her friendly manner and knowledge were a great help to me, personally, when I was working to find my Revolutionary War Patriots. We will miss her smiling face and caring ways, but are happy to have had the opportunity to know her. We are keeping all of you in our thoughts and prayers.

“ Worked with Mary at Loudoun Memorial Hospital in mid-70's. She was very dedicated to her patients and her work there. She was compassionate and her patients were well pleased with the kind and gentle care she gave. Blessed to have known Mary.

“ Mary came into our lives as fellow docents at Dodona Manor, later known as the Marshall House. During orientation under the tutelage of Pat Black and Rachel Thompson, Mary answered questions no one even knew to ask. She also had a flare for decorating. Christmas time at the Marshall House had her inimitable touch. When historical documents or photos arrived at Blossom and Bloom, they were donated to Balch Library and delivered to Mary. We shared ideas and laughter at tours, concerts and events at these unique living historical institutions in our home town. We will keep Mary's memory alive by telling her personal connection as her nurse for Mrs. Marshall at the Leesburg Hospital.

We are grateful Mary shared her many talents with her community.

“ I well remember Mary and her husband John while I volunteered at both the Thomas Balch Library and The General George C. Marshall House in Leesburg . Mary was so dedicated to history and those places that mirrored history. The Balch Library is an exceptional institution and the Marshall House is history itself. She and I were docents at the Marshall House, and it was just great to show visitors the General's home. The Library is honestly unique, and she helped to make it an experience.

Thanks, you will be remembered. Bill Sprecher, Leesburg, Virginia 20176

“ Sending peaceful prayers to John and Carl, Mary's family, her best friend Fran, and many friends. I am so sorry for your loss. I will always smile when I remember Mary. I learned, pretty early on, being invited to share holiday celebrations with all of you, that if you did not show up suitably adorned for any given holiday, you would be provided with some sort of festive flourish from a treasure chest of selections she had at the ready. “ I will greatly miss my friend Mary, she has a beautiful spirit, she always had a smile. She made me love Halloween and she gave me the MOST beautiful crimson peonies. She is home and I pray that her garden is as beautiful in heaven as it was on earth. RIP, you will be greatly missed <3

“ Don and I were fortunate to share Christmas Eve brunch with a group of close friends at Mary's and John's home for many years. One year, Mary was wearing a silly hat with elf ears or something, and she had persuaded John and her brother Carl to do the same. Each year thereafter, wearing fun holiday hats became a regular tradition for all of us who attended. We will miss Mary's warmth and sense of fun. We love you, Mary, and your presence at future gatherings will be sorely missed! --

“ Praying for you Uncle Johnny (Lohnny) and Carl. Aunt Mary Jane was definitely one who broke the mold when she was created. I will always remember our weekend dinners, Aunt Mary Jane's exciting holiday earrings, and her referring to me as Miss T. Very sad news. Rest easy.

“ Mary was a revered and valued docent at the Marshall House for more than 10 years, and we will miss her when it comes time to decorate the house for Christmas, a task that she did so well. She was also our contact with Katherine Marshall, General Marshall's widow. Mary took care of her in her final years. Mary was a great help to me when I did research at Balch Library. I will never be able to go back to Balch without thinking about Mary and expecting her to come upstairs to greet me. I was also fortunate to have learned about Leesburg's history on one of Mary's superb tours. It is so hard to believe that someone so vibrant is no longer with us. Tom Bowers

“ Mary was my nurse when I was a resident at Graydon Manor. She did my blood work earlier than needed every week just so I could get a few minutes with the skittish unit cat. I could pet him before everyone else got up. I still have the book she got me when I was there at Christmas she was very kind and compassionate with all of us who lived at Graydon.

“ Mary was a wonderful nurse and friend when we both worked at Graydon Manor. She was the only person able to get blood out of me when I was pregnant, without completely annihilating my arm. She would draw the blood and I would take it to the Dr office. Wow, wouldn't be able to do that these days. Rest In Peace Mary!
